Re: Response to Office Communication mailed 11/21/2005

Dear Examiner:

In reply to your Office Action identified above, please find the following response:

Election/Restriction

Agree to paragraph 1 (final election of glycoposphopeptical) and paragraph 2 (withdrawal of claims 28-34).

Applicant's response dated August 4, 2004

Paragraph 3: An action on the merit of claims 25-27 is contained herein below.

Claim rejections – 35 USC 102

The basis of the rejection is 35 U. S. C. 102 (b);
A person shall be entitled to a patent unless- the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the united states.

Claims 25-27 are rejected as being anticipated by Sanchez Palacios A. et al. According to the paragraph in page 3, paragraph 5 of the Office Action identified above and the introduction, Sanchez is referring to childhood infectious respiratory pathology (asthmatic bronchitis) which is not bronchial asthma which is allergic or atopic also called as type I hypersensitivity.

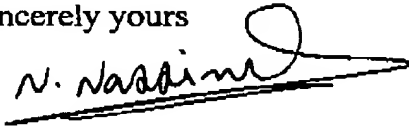

If we refer to the Material Y Metodos in the article first paragraph: Patient selection is excluding patients with allergic asthma "no atopicos", cutaneous pmoallergen positive e IgE total normal"

Re: Response to Office Communication mailed 11/21/2005

Dear Examiner:

Further to the reply sent by fax, may i kindly send some clarifications

First: The last line of the first page of the response under Claim rejection: the word "positive" has been typed by error instead of "negative", excuse me. Regarding further references that will be sent separately, as mentioned at the end of the report, I do not find it necessary to do so now because I believe that the differences between asthmatic bronchitis and atopic asthma are clear from the article.

Second: May I kindly explain that during my reply to your Office Action identified above and before midnight of the February 20th, 2006 the following happened: While faxing the answer to the fax number mentioned in the Office Action which is +703-872-9306, repeatedly the answering machine reply was that "this number is not in service, please check area code and number and dial again".

I have tried new numbers from USPTO website and selected the Patent central fax +571-273-8300 and repeatedly there were sending error.

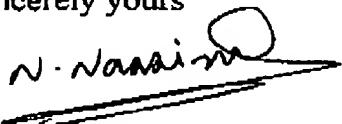

According to the USPTO Official Journal Notices, February 14, 2006, The Mailing and Hand carry Addresses for Mail to the United States Patent and Trade Mark Office, fax number mentioned was for the Mail Stop to Issue Fee which is +571-273-0140, the fax letter sent , result OK, hours before midnight of the 20th February 2006.

Later, in my notes from previous discussion a fax number that you have advised me to use is 571-273-0661. Therefore the other copy was sent to this number an hour later. I hope it was received in time.

Best regards

Sincerely yours
